STATEMENT

Graduate Assistants in the Wright State University English Department teach English composition to first- and second-year students. We give these assistantships to individuals who can demonstrate maturity, responsibility, and enthusiasm about teaching as well as a solid academic record and strong teaching aptitude. In a short essay (no more than one page) please tell us about any relevant experience you have had, what you see as important in a writing classroom, and why you are interested in teaching academic writing at Wright State. Please type on a separate sheet.

NOTE: In order to receive full consideration applications should be complete in the English Department office by March 1st.
