“Talking shop” with colleagues at conferences can leave us feeling energized about our research, facilitate opportunities for collaboration, and promote understanding of funding mechanisms. Why limit these benefits to conferences?

Come talk shop with other women in STEM disciplines from across the LEADER Consortium following a presentation by Dr. Thomas Russell, Director of Air Force Office of Scientific Research. Dr. Russell will attend the networking session and will be available to answer questions.

Don’t forget your business cards!

Date: Tuesday, May 24, 2011
Time: 1:45pm—3:00pm
Place: Wright State University
Joshi Research Center Atrium

Light Refreshment will be served.
