TALKING SHOP

A Professional Networking Event for Women in STEM
With Dr. Thomas Russell, Dir. Air Force Office of Research

“Talking shop” with colleagues at conferences can leave us feeling energized about our research, facilitate opportunities for collaboration, and promote understanding of funding mechanisms. Why limit these benefits to conferences?

Come talk shop with other women in STEM disciplines from across the LEADER Consortium following a presentation by Dr. Thomas Russell, Director of the Air Force Office of Scientific Research, Arlington, VA. Dr. Russell will attend the networking session and will be available to answer questions.

Don’t forget your business cards!

Date: Friday, April 1, 2011
Time: 3:00-4:00pm
Place: Wright State University
Brandeberry Conference Room
Joshi Research Ctr., Rm 192

Light refreshments will be served.
Parking available; check with guard in Lot 2.

This event sponsored by the LEADER Consortium at Wright State University. The LEADER Consortium is funded by an ADVANCE Award from NSF.

Questions about this event? E-mail: leader@wright.edu