The Office of Community Standards and Student Conduct:

1) What is my role as a parent in the university conduct process?

   How can I help my student?

You can help to guide your son/daughter through the process and be supportive while holding the student accountable to your expectations and those of the university. Expect your student to set appointments, attend meetings, and fulfill sanctions. It is not beneficial to the educational development of the student, or resolution of the matter, for you to take over the process for your student. The Office of Community Standards and Student Conduct is located at 022 Student Union, (937) 775-4240.

2) Why can’t I find out what happened?

Wright State University has for many years regulated access to student records. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) as amended sets forth requirements designed to limit the disclosure of student educational records. The law governs access to records maintained by educational institutions and the release of information from those records. See http://www.wright.edu/community-standards-and-student-conduct/faqs#tab=parents for more information

3) Will a disciplinary record keep my student from getting into law school, graduate school, or medical school etc.?
A disciplinary record does not automatically exclude a student from further study, jobs, etc. That usually depends on the type and severity of misconduct in which a student is involved. A disciplinary record may lead an admissions office to more closely scrutinize the student's application. We will only release information about a student's disciplinary record to another school or potential employer as allowed by the records policy. For further information see Section XIII of the Code.

Office of Disability Services:

1) What documentation will I need to receive services from the Office of Disability Services? Can you accept my IEP?

In most cases, while an IEP/ETR/MFE will enhance our understanding of a disability, it will not serve as documentation for need for a particular service. Students are required to provide documentation of their disability to receive services.

- Students with a physical disability or medical condition should submit certification of their disability from a health or rehabilitation professional.
- Students with learning disabilities should submit documentation from a licensed professional (e.g., psychologist, psychiatrist, neuropsychologist, or any other relevantly trained specialist).
- Students with ADHD should submit current and comprehensive documentation from a licensed clinical professional who has relevant experience in differential diagnosis and the full range of mental disorders (i.e., licensed clinical psychologist, neuropsychologist, psychiatrist, or other relevantly trained specialist).
- Students with psychological disabilities should submit current documentation from a licensed clinical professional who has relevant experience in differential diagnosis and the full range of mental disorders (i.e., licensed clinical psychologist, psychiatrist, licensed clinical social worker, or any other relevantly trained specialist).

Disability certification forms are available on the ODS website (http://www.wright.edu/disability-services/resources/forms); students may submit these forms, completed by their healthcare professional, as documentation of disability.

2) Will I receive the same services I did in high school?

In grades K-12, the services students receive fall under the IDEA Act, and schools are required to adapt or change curriculum to meet students’ needs. In post-secondary education, services are provided under the ADA and Section 504 of the 1974 Rehabilitation Act. Post-secondary institutions do not have to adjust curriculum; however, they must provide reasonable accommodations that allow students to participate.

3) How long will it be before I can receive services from ODS?

Students requiring services from the university need to submit an online application for accommodations (http://www.wright.edu/disability-services/apply), documentation of their disability, and participate in a pre-service interview before they can receive services. The registration process could take as long as a few weeks from the time the student makes contact with ODS.
4) Who do I contact if I need modifications made to my room?

ODS works closely with Residence Life and Housing to ensure students are functional within their living quarters. All students requesting housing accommodations on the basis of a disability are asked to register with ODS and also submit a housing accommodations request form (available online at http://www.wright.edu/disability-services/resources/forms#tab=other-forms).

ODS is located in 180 University Hall. Contact ODS by calling (937) 775-5680 or via email at disability_services@wright.edu.

Campus Recreation:

1) My student played sports in high school and would like to continue while at Wright State. Are there opportunities outside varsity athletics for my student to do so?

Yes. There are 3 ways students may participate in recreational or competitive athletics depending on the sport.

First, WSU provides facilities for informal recreation such as basketball/volleyball courts, swimming pool, racquetball/squash courts and outdoor athletic fields. These facilities usually require Wright1 Card for entry.

Second, intramural sports are offered quarterly. Students may sign up online (http://www.imleagues.com) for a variety of recreational leagues and special events, including flag football, basketball, softball and more. Leagues begin at the start of each semester, usually last five or six weeks, and include all facilities, equipment and officials necessary to play.

Finally, special interest student organizations (sport clubs) provide competitive opportunities. Sport clubs are similar to varsity athletics and often compete against other colleges and universities. However, sport clubs are student-organized, student-managed, and student-funded. There are typically over 20 sport clubs active annually including rugby, ice hockey, baseball, and football.

2) How can my student avoid the freshman 15?

Campus recreation offers a variety of fitness facilities and programs. Our 10,600 sq. /ft. fitness center includes state-of-the-art cardio, selectorized, plate-loaded and free weight equipment including several accessible pieces. Personal Training assistance is available for a small fee for those that would like help with a structured fitness program. In addition, a comprehensive group exercise program offers over 40 sessions per week including group cycling, yoga, cardio kickboxing, and belly dancing.

The ORC also rents most of your basic gear (tents, sleeping bags), so there’s no need to bring all your equipment with you. Finally, the ORC works very closely with local park and recreation services to help students take advantage of great national resources in the Miami Valley.
