As required by the U.S. Department of Education, the Wright State University Office of Financial Aid assigns a cost of attendance (COA) budget before offering students financial aid. The COA budget includes allowances for these costs:

- Tuition
- Books and supplies
- Room and board (meals)
- Transportation
- Personal expenses

Sometimes students incur additional education-related expenses that are not included in the cost of attendance. An adjustment to the COA can be made for certain expenses (see below). Adjustments to the cost of attendance increases the budget, allowing students the ability to obtain additional financial aid, typically in the form of loans. Loan options may include a federal loan, an alternative loan, or for a dependent student, parents can apply for the Parent PLUS Loan.

Additional education-related expenses	Required documentation
Additional costs associated with a student's program of study that are above the cost of tuition and fees and books and supplies Note: A different form exists for updating the COA for students planning to study abroad: http://www.wright.edu/raiderconnect/financial-aid/cost-of-attendance-adjustment/#study	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A written statement from the student's department or college that itemizes additional expenses the student will incur for their program of study and lists the total dollar amounts of the costs

Cost of Attendance Adjustment - Policy

Annually, and on a case-by-case basis, the Office of Financial Aid may increase a student's COA for additional education-related expenses incurred during the academic year. The 2022-2023 academic year includes Summer 2022, Fall 2022, and Spring 2023.

Cost of Attendance Adjustment - Process

For the 2022-2023 academic year, students must complete and return the Cost of Attendance Adjustment form and supporting documentation to Raider Connect no later than February 15, 2023. The submission of a Cost of Attendance Adjustment Form does not guarantee that a COA adjustment will occur.

Upon receiving the Cost of Attendance form, the Office of Financial Aid (OFA) will review the additional expenses documentation. If approved, the OFA will increase the cost of attendance and evaluate the student's financial aid offer. The OFA will notify students via their Wright State University email account when the review is complete.
