The “high” and “low” sections on the chart and graph represent the highest and lowest gas consumption ranging from 2005 to present. There is currently no data presented for November or December of 2015, however, the prediction is that the “high” and “low” numbers will remain the same. The current value represents the gas consumption in 2015 per month.