Our son, James' pad in San Diego, CA
(he lived in southern Cali for 3 years)

Outside the apartment complex.

Just a wonderful place to live, socialize or simply visit.
Now living in Houston, TX, James still misses San Diego

Looking at the atrium from inside the gated complex with flower gardens, a swimming pool, an outdoor barbeque pit and more.

A rambling lane inside the complex.

Entrance to the apartment by a flower garden with palm trees, ferns and other foilage.

A pastoral walk toward the pool

Partial view of a natural game preserve from inside the complex near the garages.

James and his mom; answering a phone call and checking on e-mail.
This was taken just before he moved to Houston, TX.

Sea World in San Diego

Visiting Sea World in San Diego. It was our son's 'treat' for coming to California.

Sea World – Budweiser's Clydesdales

Sea World – aerial view of...
San Diego Bay

and a few boats
moored in the bay

Sea World – aerial ride (l to r) City of San Diego in distance – roller coaster ride at bottom; porpoise tank in park; San Diego Bay

Balboa

Park

Entrance into Balboa Park – San Diego

One of many gardens in Balboa Park.

Old Doc "A" near entrance into floral facility.

Near main entrance – gigantic tree
several centuries old.

Rose garden in Balboa Park – desert in background.

View of the desert near Balboa Park.

Cacti near Balboa Park.

Sizeable cacti near Balboa Park.

An old chalk pusher resting in the shade in the rose garden.

San Diego's
Ocean Beach

Enjoying Ocean Beach about 1 mile from our son's former pad.

An exceptionally bright day at Ocean Beach with the pier in the background.

Celebrating our 32nd wedding anniversary a few years back. Our son's "treat."

Celebrating our 32nd wedding anniversary at Humphrey's Restaurant.

Enjoying Humphrey's Restaurant by the Bay.

Late at night by the bay over looking San Diego near Humphrey's Restaurant.

Dining at Fred's in Old Town with THE CUZS! I really love the Hispanic Culture. The music, food, art, and architecture.

MEET MY SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COUSINS!
(AKA THE WILD BUNCH)

Cuz Evelyn and the old equestrian luvin' egghead at Fred's in Old Town.

The gruesome two-some; Cuz Evelyn and "Face."

A wonderful vacation! Now simply a fond memory.
