Lectures: MWF 12:20–1:15pm, Room Rike 157.

Reference:

Instructor: Qun Li,
Office: MM 145, (937)775-4578;
Email: qun.li@wright.edu;
Webpage: http://www.wright.edu/~qun.li (all course information including homework problems will be announced there, please check regularly);
Office hours: MW 1:20–2:20pm, or by appointment.

Homework: There will be totally six hand-in homeworks. Homework is due at the beginning of lecture. No late homework is accepted. No electronic submission via email/online is accepted. In doing each homework, you may check with any reference or search online, and group discussion is encouraged. But you need to write down your solution independently. Exactly same papers will be regarded as plagiarism and will get nothing for both papers.

Exams: There will be two midterm exams and the final exam during the semester. The three midterms will take place during regular class period, on March 11, and April 15 respectively. The comprehensive final exam will be held on April 29 from 12:30 to 2:30pm in the regular lecture room.

All exams are closed books. There will be NO make-up exam except for emergency with documented proof and the instructor’s approval.

Grading: Course grades will be based on the average of the scores on the homeworks (20%), midterms (each will be counted as 25%), and the final exam (30%).