Have a three-year bachelor’s degree and seeking to enroll in an AACSB-accredited MBA program in the USA?

Effective immediately, Wright State University’s new Graduate School policy now accepts international MBA applicants with three-year bachelor’s degrees.

This policy change positively affects many international applicants but primarily those who have earned their three-year bachelor’s degree from the European Higher Education Area (European members of the Bologna Process), and Indian students with Division I and II from colleges accredited by NAAC with a grade of “A” or better.

To be eligible for admission, the students’ three-year programs must be equivalent to and meet the standards of regionally accredited four-year degree programs in the United States, as evaluated by Wright State University.

The Raj Soin College of Business at Wright State University warmly invites high caliber candidates with equivalent three-year bachelor’s degrees to apply for our award-winning AACSB-accredited MBA Program!
