

WRIGHT STATE UNIVERSITY

60 and Up Program

On a space-available basis, eligible Ohio residents, age 60 or older may enroll in university courses on a tuition free basis according to Section 3345.27 of the Ohio Revised Code. Students are responsible for lab fees, books, and any other special fees and must meet course prerequisites or have instructor permission to enroll. 60 and Up registration begins the Monday before the term begins and must be completed in person at Enrollment Services, located in 101 University Hall or at Lake Campus Enrollment Services. All registration changes (including changes in audit or credit status) must be completed by the 5th business day of a regular term.

For eligible students who wish to participate on a noncredit (audit) basis, tuition is free. Eligible students who wish to earn academic credit for the tuition-free courses must also demonstrate financial need as stipulated in Section 3345.27 Ohio Revised Code (family income less than 200% of the federal poverty guideline) based on the number of family members living in the home. Qualifying students will need to complete a 60 and Up Eligibility and Registration Form and present a signed copy of the current federal tax return to document financial need. Students taking courses for academic credit must submit an updated copy of their federal tax return at the start of each academic year to affirm continued eligibility.

Classes are offered on a space available basis, and some workshops/classes are not available through this program. For help with course selection for non-degree students, contact the advising center in the University College 106 Allyn Hall.

All students must apply for admission at wright.edu/apply. Eligible students who have a bachelor's degree may apply to the School of Graduate Studies for admission to take graduate courses in either non-degree graduate status or to apply for admission to a graduate degree program. Call (937) 775-2976 for information. Degree seeking students will be assigned an academic advisor.

Students who take classes for credit and who are not eligible for free tuition based on income will not be considered part of the 60 and Up program and do not need to complete this form. They may therefore register online earlier in the registration period and may wish to consider applying for financial aid. Information is available at <http://www.wright.edu/admissions/finaid/>.

60 and Up Procedures:

1. Apply for Admission if you are not already admitted wright.edu/apply. Upon verification of 60 and Up eligibility, the Admission Application fee will be refunded.
2. Classes taken for Audit require Instructor Permission.
3. Consult the Class Schedule to find classes, course requirements, course restrictions, and instructor name and link to contact instructor by email.
4. Bring the completed 60 and Up Eligibility and Registration Form and supporting documentation (ID, Tax forms if taking courses for credit) in person to Enrollment Services starting the Monday before the term begins.
