ITS Resource Alignment Project Phase 1
Blackboard Collaborate Ultra End-of-Life

Blackboard Collaborate Ultra will no longer be available on August 5, 2022. The Faculty Senate IT Subcommittee unanimously voted to adopt Webex as the primary video/web conferencing tool for Wright State University on March 17, 2022.

Why is this happening?
Blackboard Collaborate Ultra will no longer be available starting Fall 2022 due to the adoption of Webex as the primary video conferencing platform.

When is this happening?
The official end date for Blackboard Collaborate Ultra use is Friday, August 5, 2022 at 7:30 a.m. Webex will be added to the Navigation Bar in Pilot on Monday, May 2, 2022 for easier access.

What program will I use to teach?
Cisco Webex is currently used campus-wide. Training is available online by going to wright.edu/ITS-project

Where is my Blackboard video content?
Users do not need to take action to migrate content. All Blackboard content will be backed up to on-campus local storage by ITS prior to deprecating the Blackboard Service.

Who will help?
The CaTS Helpdesk is the first line of support. If there is an issue beyond what assistance the Helpdesk can provide, a ticket will be created and escalated to the ITS Team to resolve.
