Emily Bingham: A Champion in Every Way
Marlene Bireley

If you live in the Miami Valley, you have undoubtedly read and/or seen the stories about Emily Bingham, the WSU student, who advanced to the semi-finals of the Jeopardy College Championships. Emily is a marketing intern for the WSU Alumni Association which is housed in the Foundation Building just above the WSURA office. Responding to a last minute invitation, she was gracious enough to visit our February Board meeting to share her experiences with the show. At the time of that meeting she had appeared in the first round, so we did not know the eventual outcome of the tournament (she was defeated in the semifinals by the eventual tournament winner), but there was no doubt that we were impressed by her grace, intelligence and confidence. She also agreed to be interviewed after the hoopla surrounding her Jeopardy appearance was over.

In that interview and from the information available on the WSU website, a picture emerges of an outstanding young woman in every way. Emily has lived her whole life in the Dayton area with her mother, a retiree from WPAFB. As a child, she attended local private schools moving to Northmont (Englewood) High School for grades 9-12. At Northmont, she was an honor student and became very involved in Quiz Bowl, an academic competition that proved to be a great training ground for Jeopardy.

In searching for a college that would provide good scholarship support, she was accepted at several Ohio colleges but the scholarship support was not sufficient for her needs. At WSU she was accepted into the Honors Program which made her eligible to apply for the Oma Sells Scholarship. This is the most prestigious scholarship that is offered at Wright State, going to only two freshman Honors Program students each year and consisting of a “full ride” including tuition, books, housing, etc. In addition to an outstanding scholarship record, applicants must write an essay and be personally interviewed. Emily reports that she came out of the interview “feeling pretty good” and, indeed, she became one of the recipients.

The scholarship money has been well-spent as she has paid back the university in numerous ways. She has been active in the Rise.Shine. Development campaign by speaking to alumni groups in Tampa, Columbus, Cincinnati, Washington, D.C. and New York City. She served a two year term on the Student Government as Director of Campus Culture. She also served two years on the College of Liberal Arts Student Advisory Board. She was Operations Chair for Raiderthon, a campus dance marathon that raised $60,000 for the Dayton Children’s Medical Center.

As a literature major and aspiring writer/publisher, she continues her involvement as an editor with the Fogdog Review, the annual student literary forum published by the Department of English. She has been instrumental in starting a campus Quiz Bowl team and serves as Team Captain. They have competed in various tournaments around the region and hosted a successful High School Quiz Bowl Tournament on campus. For her many leadership activities, she has been inducted in Omicron Delta Kappa, the Honors Leadership Society.

As a marketing intern (a second major) for the Alumni Association she has helped develop a new website and an alumni survey. You may have seen her message for the Alumni Association that plays on the Nutter Center scoreboard during basketball games.

She may not have taken home the top prize in the Jeopardy competition, but she is certainly a champion in every way and, in turn, she believes that Wright State has given her many opportunities and a first-class education. We wish her well in her future endeavors!

Proposed Bylaws Changes

Judy Rose, Chair, Bylaws and Elections Chair

Our Bylaws state that the bylaws must be reviewed at least every four years. Several changes in procedure have taken place since the last changes in December 2013. Changes that reflect current practice or clarification of language are listed below and will be voted on at the annual meeting to be held prior to the WSU summer picnic. The entire text of the bylaws can be found in the front of any WSURA Directory or on the WSURA website. Changes are in bold print.

I. Article II-Purpose
The purpose of the Association is to initiate, promote and support opportunities for its members by providing:

a. Continuing involvement in service to the university.
Rationale: Clarification of language.

Article III-Membership

Qualifications:

d. A free annual membership, beginning in January after retirement, is available to each new WSU retiree upon return of a membership application. e. will become d.
Rationale: The proposed change is the elimination of this provision. It was added a few years ago as a recruitment tool. It has not proved to be successful and adds a burden to the dues bookkeeping.

Article V.-Governance of the Association

Section 2: Actions of the Board

a. If any act or resolution of the Board clearly implies the need for the consent of the majority of the Association, it must be submitted to the members at a general meeting or by mail ballot.
Rationale: Clarification of language.

Section 3: Officers and Duties

Insert as b. The six elected officers shall serve as the Executive Committee.

Current b-f will be relettered.
Rationale: Some of the business of the organization can be better handled by a small group. In practice, the officers have met frequently to work on issues that are then presented to the full Board. This addition routinizes the current practice.

f. (now g). The immediate Past President serves in an advisory capacity to the Board and assists with other functions as requested.
Rationale: Clarification of language.

Section 4: Fiscal Year and Terms of Office

b. The President, Vice President and Past President serve for a term of one year.
Rationale: Past President added for clarification.

Section 6: Committees

e. Liaisons are those persons who represent WSURA in other university organizations or units that are of particular interest to WSURA members (for example, The Friends of the Libraries, the Athletic Council, the Alumni Association and the University Center for International Studies).
Rationale: Alumni Association has been added. The official names of other groups has been clarified.

Article VIII-Dissolution

Upon the dissolution of WSURA, all funds remaining after payment of just debts shall be transferred to the Wright State University Foundation for deposit in the WSURA Nick Davis Scholarship Fund to be administered as determined by the Deed for the WSURA Nick Davis Scholarship Fund on file with the WSU Foundation.
Rationale: Now reflects the amended name of the Scholarship.
President’s Message
Dick Williams

Last year WSURA initiated a new event that we are calling the Retiree Reunion. The first edition was a great success with over 80 retirees enjoying a lunch buffet at the Nutter Center, listening to presentations by Dawne Dewey and Chris Wydman from the University Archives and reuniting with former colleagues and old friends.

This year the Second Annual Reunion Lunch will be held on May 6 and will feature a presentation about Wright State’s early days by Gary Barlow, WSURA’s first President, and Wright State President David Hopkins speaking about his vision for Wright State’s future. The program also includes an exhibition of photographs from the University Archives showing the growth and development of the Wright State campus over the years. All retirees and their spouses or guests are invited to attend the lunch, enjoy the program and spend time with other Wright State retirees. See the Activities page for more details.

The annual campus scholarship campaign will soon be under way and I encourage all of you to contribute, especially to the WSURA Nick Davis Scholarship fund. The income from this fund is dedicated to support scholarships to outstanding students.

Nearly 20% of the over 1000 WSU retirees donated last year including $11,610 to the Scholarship Fund. The percentage of participation has more than doubled over the past two years. Please help us continue this outstanding record of retiree giving.

Wright Path to Retirement
WSURA supplied two panels (faculty and staff) for the Wright Path to Retirement conference held in the Student Union on February. Presenters included those who had been retired recently to those who had been retired for a number of years. Emphasis was on what to expect from retirement. A WSURA booth where brochures and information about the organization were available was also manned by Board members. About a dozen retirees participated in one of these activities.
