Second Annual Retirees' Reunion Marlene Bireley

Hugs, handshakes, smiles and the cacophony of laughter and talk of nearly ninety people heralded the success of the second annual Retirees' Reunion luncheon. Once again, reconnections were made, memories were shared and a very good time was had by all. Becky Sommer, formerly of Human Resources, was acknowledged for coming the longest distance from her home in Arkansas.

The theme of the day was "A Sense of Time and Place- Then and Now" and the program reflected the theme. The first president of WSURA and one of the original employees of Wright State, Gary Barlow, related the history of the organization. His complete remarks are posted on our website, but the highlights of the early days included :

The idea of a retirees' group was conceived at an informal lunch attended by a few soon-to-be retirees in the spring of 1993. The idea was shared with others including Rich Johnson, then Manager of Employee Benefits. Rich reported that at that time the total retiree population was over 400. On October 3 a meeting was held to discuss the possibility of a "Retiree Club." The response was enthusiastic and by-laws were solicited from other state retiree groups. Fifteen people served on a steering committee and the WSURA by-laws were approved on February 22, 1994. Elections were held (see the website for a list of the officers) and the first event was held on April 2 in the Upper Hearth Lounge of the Student Center. Our first office space was 151 Allyn Hall. During the past twenty-three years we have grown to nearly 400 members and have enjoyed the support of every administration. We look forward to many more years of presenting a balanced program of social activities for our members and service to our members and the university.

Our second speaker, President Hopkins, shared the status of his goals for the university during his tenure, details of the impact of the upcoming presidential debates, and the need for belt-tightening as state support of the university continues to shrink. He will be leaving the post next year as the longest serving current president of an Ohio state university. He pointed with pride to the increased presence of WSU in the community through partnerships with local businesses, research initiatives and the nationally recognized community service program. He credited Donna Schlagheck, incoming WSURA president-elect, with the idea of vying for the presidential debate and stated that it may be the most-watched debate in history. Over 4000 media representatives are expected and all rooms are sold out in an 80 mile radius of campus. C-Span will air a program on Wright State prior to the debate giving us nationwide exposure.

He recounted the impact of having the support of Tom Hanks for our arts programs and the ongoing Rise. Shine. fundraising effort. He credited a dinner in New York City attended by him, Mrs. Hopkins and some major donors with the introduction of Hanks to Amanda Wright

Lane, grand niece of the Wright brothers. Their conversation that evening led to the idea of the upcoming Wright brothers documentary series that will be based on David McCullough's book on the brothers. (Hanks and McCullough spent considerable time touring local Wright sites during their recent trip to the university.)

Finally, he congratulated the retirees for their continued support of the university through their donations to the Nick Davis WSURA Scholarship Fund and other university units and initiatives.

The day ended with more talk, awarding of door prizes, and perusal of some old photographs supplied by the university Archives. Promises to meet again next year were made as the happy group departed for home.

A Personal Note Marlene Bireley

This issue of The Extension marks my last as editor. For more than a decade, it has been my pleasure to compile the news of the organization supplemented by articles contributed by members on various topics and reminiscences. I made the decision before the recent election that it was time for someone else to have this experience and to infuse the process with new creativity and vision. I hope you will support Frieda Bennett as she assumes this responsibility. In the meantime, I hope to remain on the Board in another capacity and I most certainly will remain an active member of the organization that has brought me new friends, maintained connections with old friends and supplied me with many good experiences. Thanks in particular to Mary Gromosiak and Carol Stevenson who have contributed major portions of the content of each issue and to the many student assistants who have supplied the technical skills that I lack to compile each issue into a readable and attractive format.

WSURA Summer Activities

Annual WSU Retirees and Staff Picnic WSURA Open House and Annual Meeting June 10, 2016

Come early and make a day of it! The WSURA Board is holding an Open House at our new office, followed by a short annual meeting. This is a good time to see our facility, meet the Board and enjoy a cup of coffee with your friends. The meeting will be completed in plenty of time to move on to the picnic.

9:30 -10:00 Coffee at the WSURA Office

10:00-11:00 Annual WSURA meeting, approval of By-Laws changes

11:00-1:00 WSU picnic, Garden of the Senses (Student Center in case of rain)

The WSURA Office is 210 Foundation Building which is across from the main road into campus, directly behind Wendy's. There is adequate and easy parking in both the front and behind the building. The elevator is close to the front door. The back door is accessible.

News from WSURA

President's Message Dick Williams

With summer rapidly approaching (Summer Term A is already in session), I want to wish you all a good summer and hope your travels are enjoyable and your health remains unremarkable.

I know you have all been following the goings on at Wright State on the front page of the Dayton Daily News. Let's hope that our university can overcome the unfortunate budget shortfalls without too many layoffs and that the upcoming Presidential Debate brings more favorable headlines and, maybe, spurs enrollment.

Let me thank all of you who attended the 2nd Annual Retirees Reunion Lunch on May 6. The turnout exceeded last year's great start and everyone enjoyed the food. You can read more about the proceedings elsewhere in this issue. Let me remind you that the annual Retirees Picnic will be held on June 10, come rain or shine. In the event of rain the picnic will be moved inside the Student Union.

The University's annual Campus Scholarship and Innovation campaign is underway. I encourage you to support CSIC and, especially, giving to our Nick Davis Fund that supports our annual scholarship awards. The specifics of the remarkable increase in giving by retirees is documented on page.

The news from STRS about healthcare costs is not good. STRS has already announced changes beginning 2017 that will increase out-of-pocket costs including, but not limited to, an increase in copays for emergency room treatment for Medicare plan enrollees, an increase in copays for diabetic prescriptions, and, an increase in the coinsurance percentage for specialty drugs from 10% to 13% with an increase in the per prescription maximum from $500 to $550. STRS is also reducing the subsidy multiplier for non-Medicare benefit recipients to 1.8% per year of service from 2.1% and are phasing out the Medicare Part B premium reimbursement over a three-year period, beginning in 2017.

Finally, I would like to thank all the Board members who have supported me and the organization throughout this year. They volunteer their time and work endlessly to serve our members and the university and they have a great time doing it. I hope that some of you will consider joining us in this endeavor in the future. Good luck to our incoming president, Mary Kenton, and the new and returning Board members.

(The following information was sent to Rebecca Cole, President of the WSU Foundation, requesting that it be used as a news release. Increasing the percentage of retirees who contribute to the annual fund has been a particular goal of the WSURA Board over the last few years.)

Wright State University retiree donations in fiscal year 2015 have set an all time high in the number of donations, the amount of donations, and the average donation.

The past year (2015) has been the most successful in the past fifteen years, with 200 individual retirees donating over a quarter million dollars ($256,000)—an average gift of $1,281.

In the past four years, retirees have donated three-quarters of a million dollars ($756,270). The average annual total donations of the past four years have been $189,000. Total giving since 2001 stands at $885,000, with the expectation that the one million dollar mark will be exceeded in the coming year.

Donations are distributed to programs campus wide including the WSURA's Nick Davis Scholarship Endowment, which now stands at $67,000. In the past two years, the endowment has grown by $11,000 annually. The board has set a goal of reaching $90,000 in the next two years to permit the funding of three $1500 scholarships.

The Board of Directors expresses their gratitude for the generosity of its membership.

Ms. Cole's response:

Thanks so much for sharing the great news regarding the generosity of the Wright State University Retirees! These are very impressive numbers and they speak to the continued dedication of our retirees. We are so grateful to the individuals for making these ongoing commitments and for their continued passion for scholarship support. I'm particularly impressed with the marked growth in the number and amount of donations. The average gift of $1,281 is a very impressive figure!

Thanks to you and your colleagues for communicating these critically important messages to the entire population of retirees. We'll be certain to share these impressive figures and accomplishments with our Foundation Board of Trustees!

Warmest regards,
Becky Cole
