

Wright
State Rd.

The image shows a map of the Wright State University campus. A large red circle highlights a central area. A white callout box with a black border points to a location within this red circle. Another white callout box points to a road on the right side of the map. A smaller orange callout box points to a building. Two other yellow callout boxes point to specific buildings. A green line representing a road or path runs across the bottom of the map.
