Do you want to keep track of all the articles and books you use for research? Would you like to use a program that helps you format citations and create a bibliography? Check out RefWorks from the University Libraries! RefWorks helps you organize your resources and create bibliographies, in-text citations, and footnotes. It's available to you for free. The schedule of upcoming workshops is available online via <http://www.libraries.wright.edu/calendar/workshops.php?id=42> or you can contact your subject librarian via http://www.libraries.wright.edu/help/staff/?general=subject_lib for a personal tutorial on how to use RefWorks.
