From the President’s Report

Enrollment Update
Dr. Hopkins opened his report with a summary of 2016 Fall enrollment figures. As of September 17, the total number of students for all terms (undergraduates, graduates, and nondegree-seeking students) is 39,750. Undergraduate enrollment is down 4%, or about 1,600 students. At the end of August, undergraduate enrollment not counting BSIDM is down 4.6% (1,780 students). Among domestic students, undergraduate enrollment is down 3.8%, or about 1,500 students, and graduate enrollment is up 0.2%, or 85 students. Among international students, undergraduate enrollment is down 7.7%, or about 600 students.

In total, Wright State has spent about 53.8 million in the past month on the 2016 Fall budget. The university has received about $1.6 million in grant funding from the Commission on the up-coming presidential debates and has also been granted $5 million to expand the goals of WAC to all forms of Across the Curriculum and to consider the second report of the Academic Policies Committee on the Core Curriculum. The President’s Office has also been able to reallocate $1.6 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.

Dr. Hopkins also provided an update on the status of the voluntary budget remediation program during the 2009 remediation program. The program was based on similar programs during the 2003 and 2006 budget crises. The university has received 1.6 million in grants for the project and has spent 5 million in the past month. The project is expected to continue through the end of the fiscal year and is expected to conclude by the end of the fiscal year. The President’s Office has been able to reallocate $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.

The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.

Dr. Hopkins also provided an update on the status of the voluntary budget remediation program during the 2009 remediation program. The program was based on similar programs during the 2003 and 2006 budget crises. The university has received 1.6 million in grants for the project and has spent 5 million in the past month. The project is expected to continue through the end of the fiscal year and is expected to conclude by the end of the fiscal year. The President’s Office has been able to reallocate $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.

Dr. Hopkins also provided an update on the status of the voluntary budget remediation program during the 2009 remediation program. The program was based on similar programs during the 2003 and 2006 budget crises. The university has received 1.6 million in grants for the project and has spent 5 million in the past month. The project is expected to continue through the end of the fiscal year and is expected to conclude by the end of the fiscal year. The President’s Office has been able to reallocate $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.

Dr. Hopkins also provided an update on the status of the voluntary budget remediation program during the 2009 remediation program. The program was based on similar programs during the 2003 and 2006 budget crises. The university has received 1.6 million in grants for the project and has spent 5 million in the past month. The project is expected to continue through the end of the fiscal year and is expected to conclude by the end of the fiscal year. The President’s Office has been able to reallocate $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators. The President’s Office has also been able to redirect $2.5 million of the stipend for the institution’s top two administrators. These funds are reserved to help pay for the expenses of these administrators.