Dr. Roger Siervogel and his colleagues in the School of Medicine successfully competed for a five-year renewal of their National Institutes of Health grant entitled "Adiposity, Disease Risk Factors, and Lifetime Health"; the first year's funding totals $1.1 million. The U.S. Department of Education awarded Dr. Dennis Moore of the School of Medicine a five-year grant for the "Rehabilitation Research and Training Center (RRTC) on Substance Abuse, Disability, and Employment"; the first year's funding totals $700,000.

IX. REPORTS OF THE COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD
   A. Academic Affairs Committee

General Lyles, chair, reported on the Academic Affairs committee meeting of January 21, 2005. The following topics were discussed:

   Report of the Provost

Winter quarter enrollment highlights: Undergraduate headcount is up 1.2% from last year; graduate headcount is down 3.0% from last year; and total university headcount is up 0.1%. Undergraduate credit hours are up 1.0% from last year; graduate credit hours are up 0.1% from last year; and total university credit hours are up 0.6%.

The search for the next dean of the College of Engineering and Computer Science began during the fall quarter. The search committee worked throughout the fall and eight candidates were granted airport interviews. Since we were unable to build a strong consensus on three to five candidates to bring to campus, a decision was made to close the search and look at ways to enhance the search process. We have now reopened the search with the assistance of Korn Ferry International, a highly respected executive search firm. Korn Ferry will be working with our search committee to enhance our advertisement plan and to identify and screen potential candidates. Our goal is to conduct campus interviews in early April.

Approximately 300 classified and unclassified staff attended the first-ever USAC-CSAC Staff Development Day on December 20, 2004. The half-day event offered separate sessions on customer service, the multigenerational workforce, and coping with change.

   Master of Science in Logistics and Supply Chain Management

Dr. Berkwood Farmer, dean of the Raj Soin College of Business, and Dr. Vikram Sethi, chair and professor of Information Systems and Operations Management, highlighted the successful launch of the revitalized MS program in Logistics and Supply Chain Management. The MS program is designed to enhance the skills of logisticians and supply chain professionals by integrating state-of-the-art academic concepts with concept application in a unique one-year blended education program. Program participants attend five weekend residencies at Wright State University and take ten eLearning modules developed by global subject matter experts that include faculty and industry experts. A one-year company sponsored project is completed by all participants and designed to show demonstrated return to the sponsoring organization.

Continuing needs include facility improvement, scholarship support and program support.

Campaign Report and Update on Development Initiatives
Mr. Robert Copeland stated that this year the initiative is to broaden the base of volunteers for the Corporate Appeal and to increase faculty and staff involvement in campus wide fund raising efforts. Total campaign commitments through December 30, 2004 are over $60 million. Searches are being conducted for three positions in the division. Interviewing has begun for two of the positions.

Mr. Bob Batson presented an example of an endowment report that is sent out to donors. The report includes a letter from Mrs. Marcia Muller and provides information to the donor about their contributions to the fund, the earnings and the current market value of the endowment. These reports have resulted in more donations being made.

C. Building and Grounds Committee
Mr. Adams reported on the Building and Grounds Committee meeting of January 21, 2005.

Dr. Matt Filipic explained that the university is undertaking a rebid of our facilities operation management contract. There are currently three firms with national reputations in providing facilities management services that have expressed an interest. The university has also developed a committee to develop an internal proposal. In discussions with Provost David Hopkins and Associate Vice President Vicky Davidson regarding the need to place a greater need on facility planning, it has been decided that Ms. Davidson will now focus her efforts on the planning side of facilities and will now report directly to Provost Hopkins. Discussions continue to identify options for facilities management.

Campus Master Plan Phase V

Mr. Mike Schulze, university planner, updated the Board members on the design and development of the campus master plan. The history of the different phases of the exterior campus master plan was discussed. Phase V bid documents will be available mid-February with bids received in March. The major portion of Phase V construction will be complete by fall quarter 2005 with landscape elements installed during fall quarter.

Fred White Center Expansion and Renovation

Mr. Schulze presented the schematic designs for the project. A new addition will be constructed to include labs for the Gross Anatomy program and an additional lecture hall. Phase II of the project will renovate the existing building to accommodate offices for Student Affairs and new computer labs, classrooms and study areas for the medical students. This transformation will allow the Wright State University School of Medicine program to teach both first and second year medical students in this facility.

E. Student Affairs Committee

Ms. King reported on the committee meeting of January 21, 2005.

Vice-President’s Report

Dr. Dan Abrahamowicz summarized the progress of various construction and renovation projects, including the Athletics Pavilion, Student Union, and University Park Apartments. Two recently completed projects are the Hamilton Hall lobby and Student Union Formal Lounge. On January 27th, Career Services will sponsor a career fair for students in the College of Engineering and Computer Science, and on February 4-6th, the division will host approximately 300 parents and students for the annual Parents’ Weekend program.

Mr. Stanford Baddley, director of Student Services, Lake Campus, introduced Mr. Mike Hayden, advisor to the Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) program. Mr. Hayden outlined the group’s progress on campus and in the St. Mary’s community since their presentation to the Board last November.

Student Government Update

Mr. Brandon Kern, Student Government president, gave an update on the on-line course evaluation initiative. Beginning Spring Quarter 2005, Student Government will host the service via their website. Upon completion of the Banner project, the service will be converted to the new system. He emphasized that the evaluation process is voluntary, and will enable students to offer their opinions and acquire information about how course content is presented.

He also commented on the status of Student Government’s study of campus parking, noting that several Student Government recommendations are likely to be implemented. These include increased shuttles, the addition of new parking lots/spaces for students and a reduction in the ratio of parking passes to parking spaces.

Student Government is initiating a new program this quarter called “Speak Out 2005”. Student Government hopes that this forum-style event will increase interaction and communication between the Student Government representatives and the student body. Student Government is also collaborating with other student organizations to sponsor road trips to away basketball games. Mr. Kern is also exploring ways of furthering student involvement on issues related to higher education funding.

Faculty Senate Representative Report
Dr. Rick Wantz, Faculty Representative, stated that the Student Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate is becoming involved in the evaluation process for Dining Services.

Orientation/Updates
Ms. Kim Kramer, director of Wright State University’s Child Development Center, operated by Mini University, gave a presentation on the center’s history, goals, program and services. Opened in 1987, the center currently enrolls 217 children from the age of six weeks to 12 years. Nearly 2/3 of the enrollees are children of WSU students, faculty and staff, with students having first priority for available openings. Mini University was the first to provide a child care program accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) in Greene County, and offers day care, before and after school care, as well as full-day kindergarten and summer programs. An advisory board, chaired by Dr. Greg Bernhardt, dean of the College of Education and Human Services, meets quarterly.

Potential Policy Issues:
Mr. Dave Darr, director of Financial Aid, reported on the changes in federal government funding for the Perkins Loan and Pell Grant programs, and the subsequent impact on Wright State University students. Effective this academic year, the Perkins Loan, which has provided low interest loans to students since 1958, will no longer receive new federal capital contributions. The total impact on WSU and WSU students is an estimated $286,000 reduction in funds. A possible remedy to aid students would be an increase to Wright State University’s Continuing Enrollment Loan Program.

Changes in the state and other tax tables used to determine Pell Grant eligibility will result in a relatively small number of Wright State students losing these funds (estimated to be 45 out of 3,200). Of greater concern is the fact that the maximum award amount has not changed in three years when the tuition costs have increased significantly. Dr. Robert Rando, director, Center for Psychological Services, provided an overview of the department’s staff, services, client statistics and future plans, including a change of name to Counseling and Wellness Services.

F. Student Trustees Report
Ms. Hiloni Bhavsar gave today’s report.
Ms. Bhavsar attended graduation, and is looking forward to her own June graduation ceremony.

Mr. Watson and Ms. Bhavsar attended the Student Trustee Conference at Bowling Green State University. They were contacted by the student trustees at the university who were seeking feedback from the student trustees around the state on whether a separate conference would be beneficial. The response was overwhelmingly in support of such an event.

Mr. Watson is in the process of preparing for our new student trustee who will be taking her place at the end of her term on June 30th of this year. He will be chairing the search committee and hopes to get lots of great applicants to recommend to the Governor.

Ms. Bhavsar attended some of WSU sporting events. She went to several basketball games over winter break along with swim meets that were held in the Student Union pool. She reported that there was a greater number of student and faculty support at both of those athletic events as well as others. She thanked the parties involved in starting the Raider Pack, which is a great incentive to get students involved in our campus wide sporting events. Raider Pack is a type of rewards program. When students first become members, they receive a T-shirt and a card that is stamped every time they attend a sporting event. The students are required to wear the T-shirt to the event in order to receive the stamp and as the stamps accumulate the students get rewards at local area restaurants, the bookstore, and even the possibility of winning a tuition waiver.

G. Faculty President’s Report

Dr. Drew Pringle, faculty president, reported that the Executive Committee completed its run through of the Faculty Constitution. They are currently engaging in edits from faculty and administration and have a meeting to complete the next run through on February 14, 2005. The edited constitution should be going to the Senate soon. Also, the Faculty handbook is moving along with final edits being completed. It too should be ready for Senate action soon.

Faculty are concerned about the future state budget and the possible effects on higher education. However, there is some hopefulness regarding the potential renewal of the penny sales tax in aiding higher education. The feeling of uneasiness among faculty is understandable since there is very little coming out of Columbus regarding the budget and what we can expect in higher education.

Senate committees are looking into a variety of topics, as some university contracts are up for negotiations, including: classroom materials and the bookstore, dining services, campus wireless connectivity and voice over IP, and the campus master plan for construction.

Enrollment appears to be up slightly with student credit hours up a bit more. Couple this with our classroom utilization at approximately 80%+ and we certainly are approaching our capacity for growth. Wright State faculty are teaching more students, more credit hours, in fewer time blocks, and with fewer classrooms than in the past.

In the eyes of the faculty, it is thought that Senate House Bill 24 is an unnecessary bill.

X. PRESENTATION AND POLICY DISCUSSIONS

Dean Mary Ellen Mazey
Dean, College of Liberal Arts

ArtsGala

Dr. Kim Goldenberg introduced Dr. Mary Ellen Mazey, dean of the College of Liberal Arts. Dr. Mazey has been providing leadership in the development of the ArtsGala, which we strongly support as a great academic enterprise, but also something that illustrates to the community the quality of individuals that are at Wright State University.

The purpose of the ArtsGala is to showcase the talents of the fine and performing arts students to the Miami Valley Region and to raise need-based scholarship funds for students to major in fine and performing arts.

The first year - 2000, ArtsGala raised $25,000 for scholarships. In 2004, $115,000 was raised and 30 students given scholarships.

The 2005 Host Committee Co-Chairs are Dan and Sue Duval.

Wright State University students, Stephanie Hord, Department of Music and Andrew Dailey from the Department of Art and Art History relayed to the Board and the audience what the scholarships have meant to them as students.
