Wright State University is moving into a time of transition with the upcoming retirement of Dr. Hopkins and the resulting changes associated with new leadership. Our budgetary challenges are being addressed with the Board passage of a Budget Remediation Plan on June 2, 2016. While we are a great university, there is still more work to be done to address whatever challenges lie ahead in transitioning, compliance, funding, technology, and the changing face of education.

Today we will be looking at our strengths, opportunities and challenges as we prepare for the future. As our namesake, the Wright Brothers demonstrated, we are committed to innovate and soar.
