

Special Seminar on Writing Across the Sciences

WRIGHT STATE UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

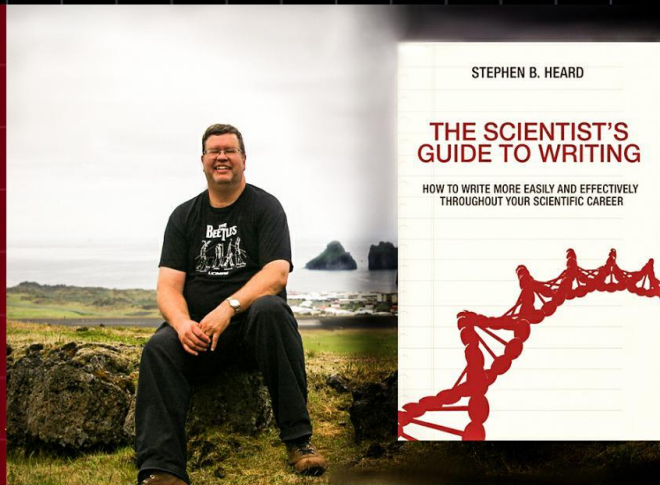

Speaker:
Stephen B. Heard, Ph.D.,
University of New Brunswick

*So you are deft with the lab skills, but...
Can you effectively share your results in writing?*

Wednesday, April 5th
1:25pm - 2:20pm
101 NEC Auditorium

"What scientific writing is: Reflections on the history, culture, and practice of composition in the natural sciences"

Members of all departments are encouraged to attend, particularly graduate students and early career faculty, but also undergraduates, staff, and established faculty interested in learning about and improving their scientific writing.
