

Wright State University Retirees Association

Presents:

Bosnia-Herzegovina and Dayton: Improving the Prospects for a Lasting Peace

Mediation Specialist Arch Grieve

In 2015, Arch Grieve received his M.A. in International and Comparative Politics from Wright State University. He is a mediation specialist at the Dayton Mediation Center, serves as chair of the Dayton Sister City Committee and is program manager for the State Department-sponsored Four Cities Young Leader Academy exchange program.

Arch will focus on the Bosnia-Herzegovina conflict resolution 25 years after the 1995 Dayton Peace Accords. He also will discuss his work developing and collaborating with partners in Bosnia-Herzegovina to establish an international intern exchange program.
